

SYSTEMS SYPOSIUM 2026

November 16-20, 2026 Monterey, California

Distinguished Speaker

Col. Shannon N. Thompson

U.S. Army Combat Capabilities Development Command Aviation & Missile Center Military Deputy

Col. Shannon N. Thompson is a Distinguished Military Graduate of Vanderbilt University, where he was commissioned as an Armor Officer in 2002. He served in the 3d Armored Cavalry Regiment and 1st Infantry Division, deploying multiple times in support of operations in Iraq and serving as a troop commander. In 2010, he transitioned to the Army Acquisition Corps as a FA51 Acquisition Officer, holding positions supporting THAAD, Army Air and Missile Defense, and acquisition policy. Most recently, he served as Commander of DCMA Albuquerque, overseeing contractor compliance across New Mexico, southern Arizona, and West Texas. Col. Thompson holds a Master of Business Administration from the University of Colorado and a Master of Strategic Studies from the U.S. Army War College. His military awards include the Bronze Star, Meritorious Service Medal, and Combat Action Badge.